Foreword

Autumn turns to winter, springtime into summer; and seasons pass us by. This was a good year--a year when time meant only the day after tomorrow. This was a year of wistful-eyed beings with tender dreams.

We, the class of 1967, wish to present to you the eighteenth edition of the MARTINIAN. We hope you will look back on the picture-filled pages and remember with us. This book is laughter, tears, happiness, and sadness. This book is filled with wonderful memories for all at Martin High.

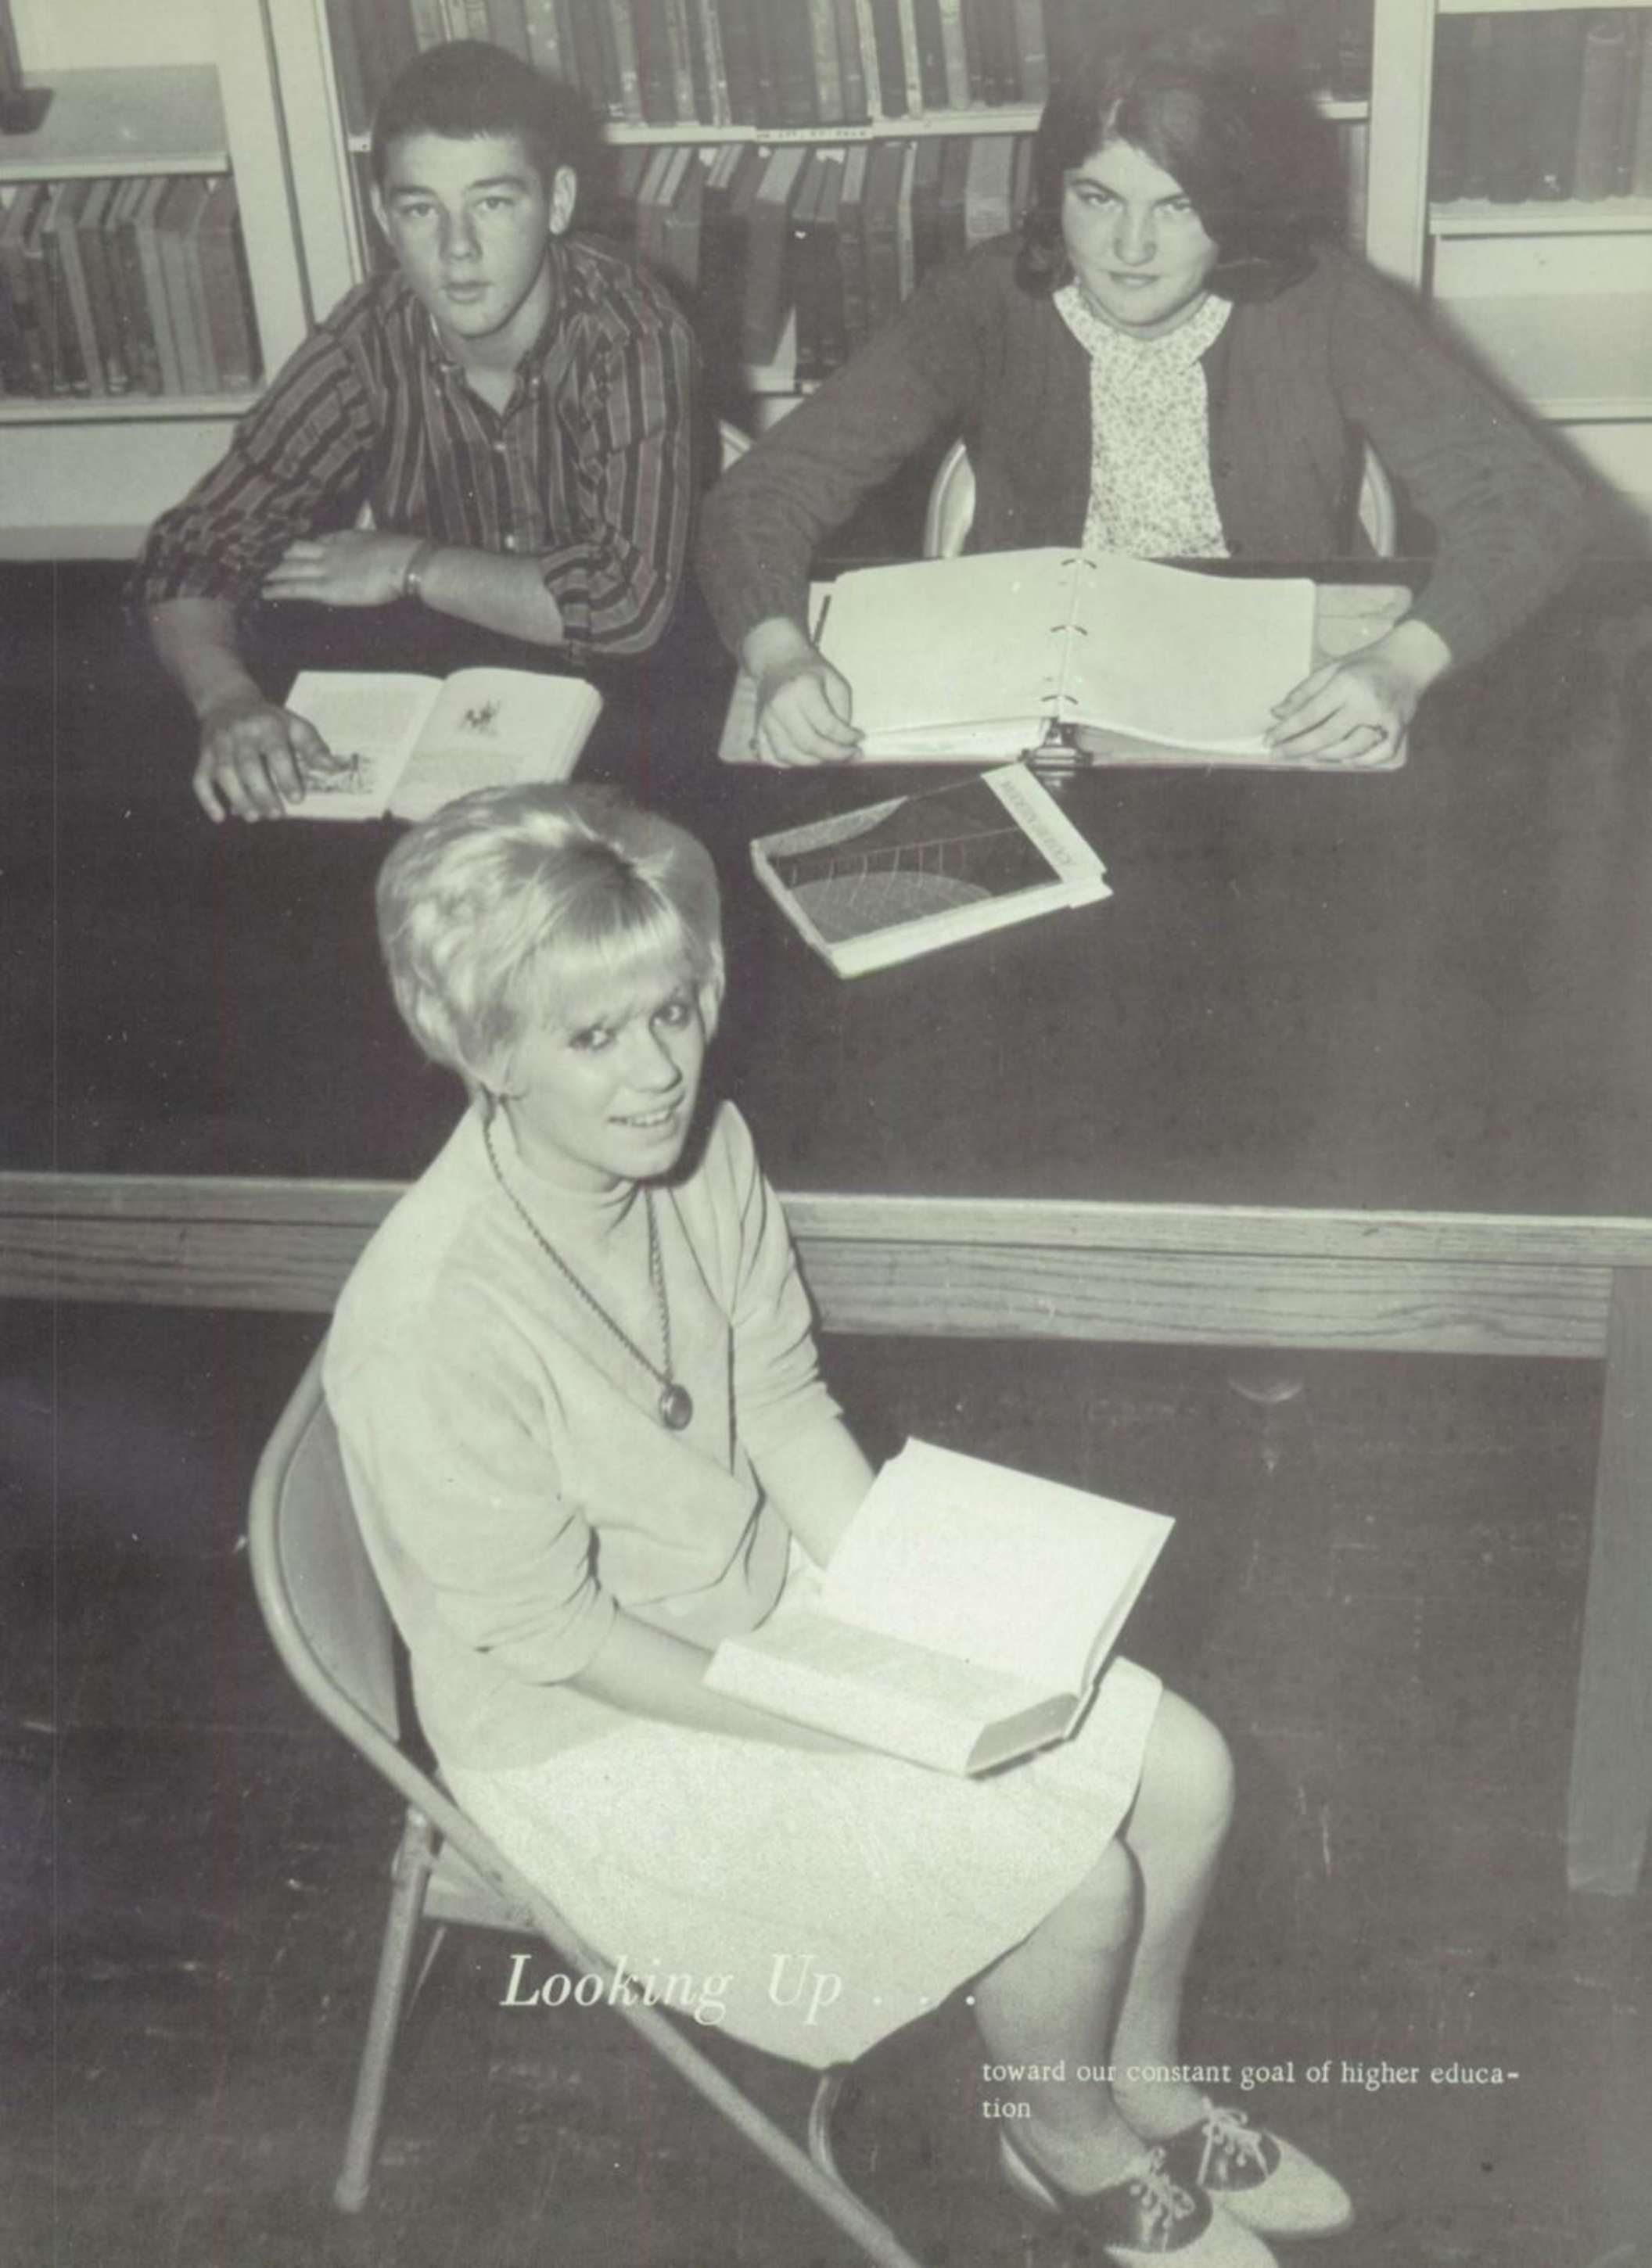
Looking Down . . .

on the hustle and bustle of school activities

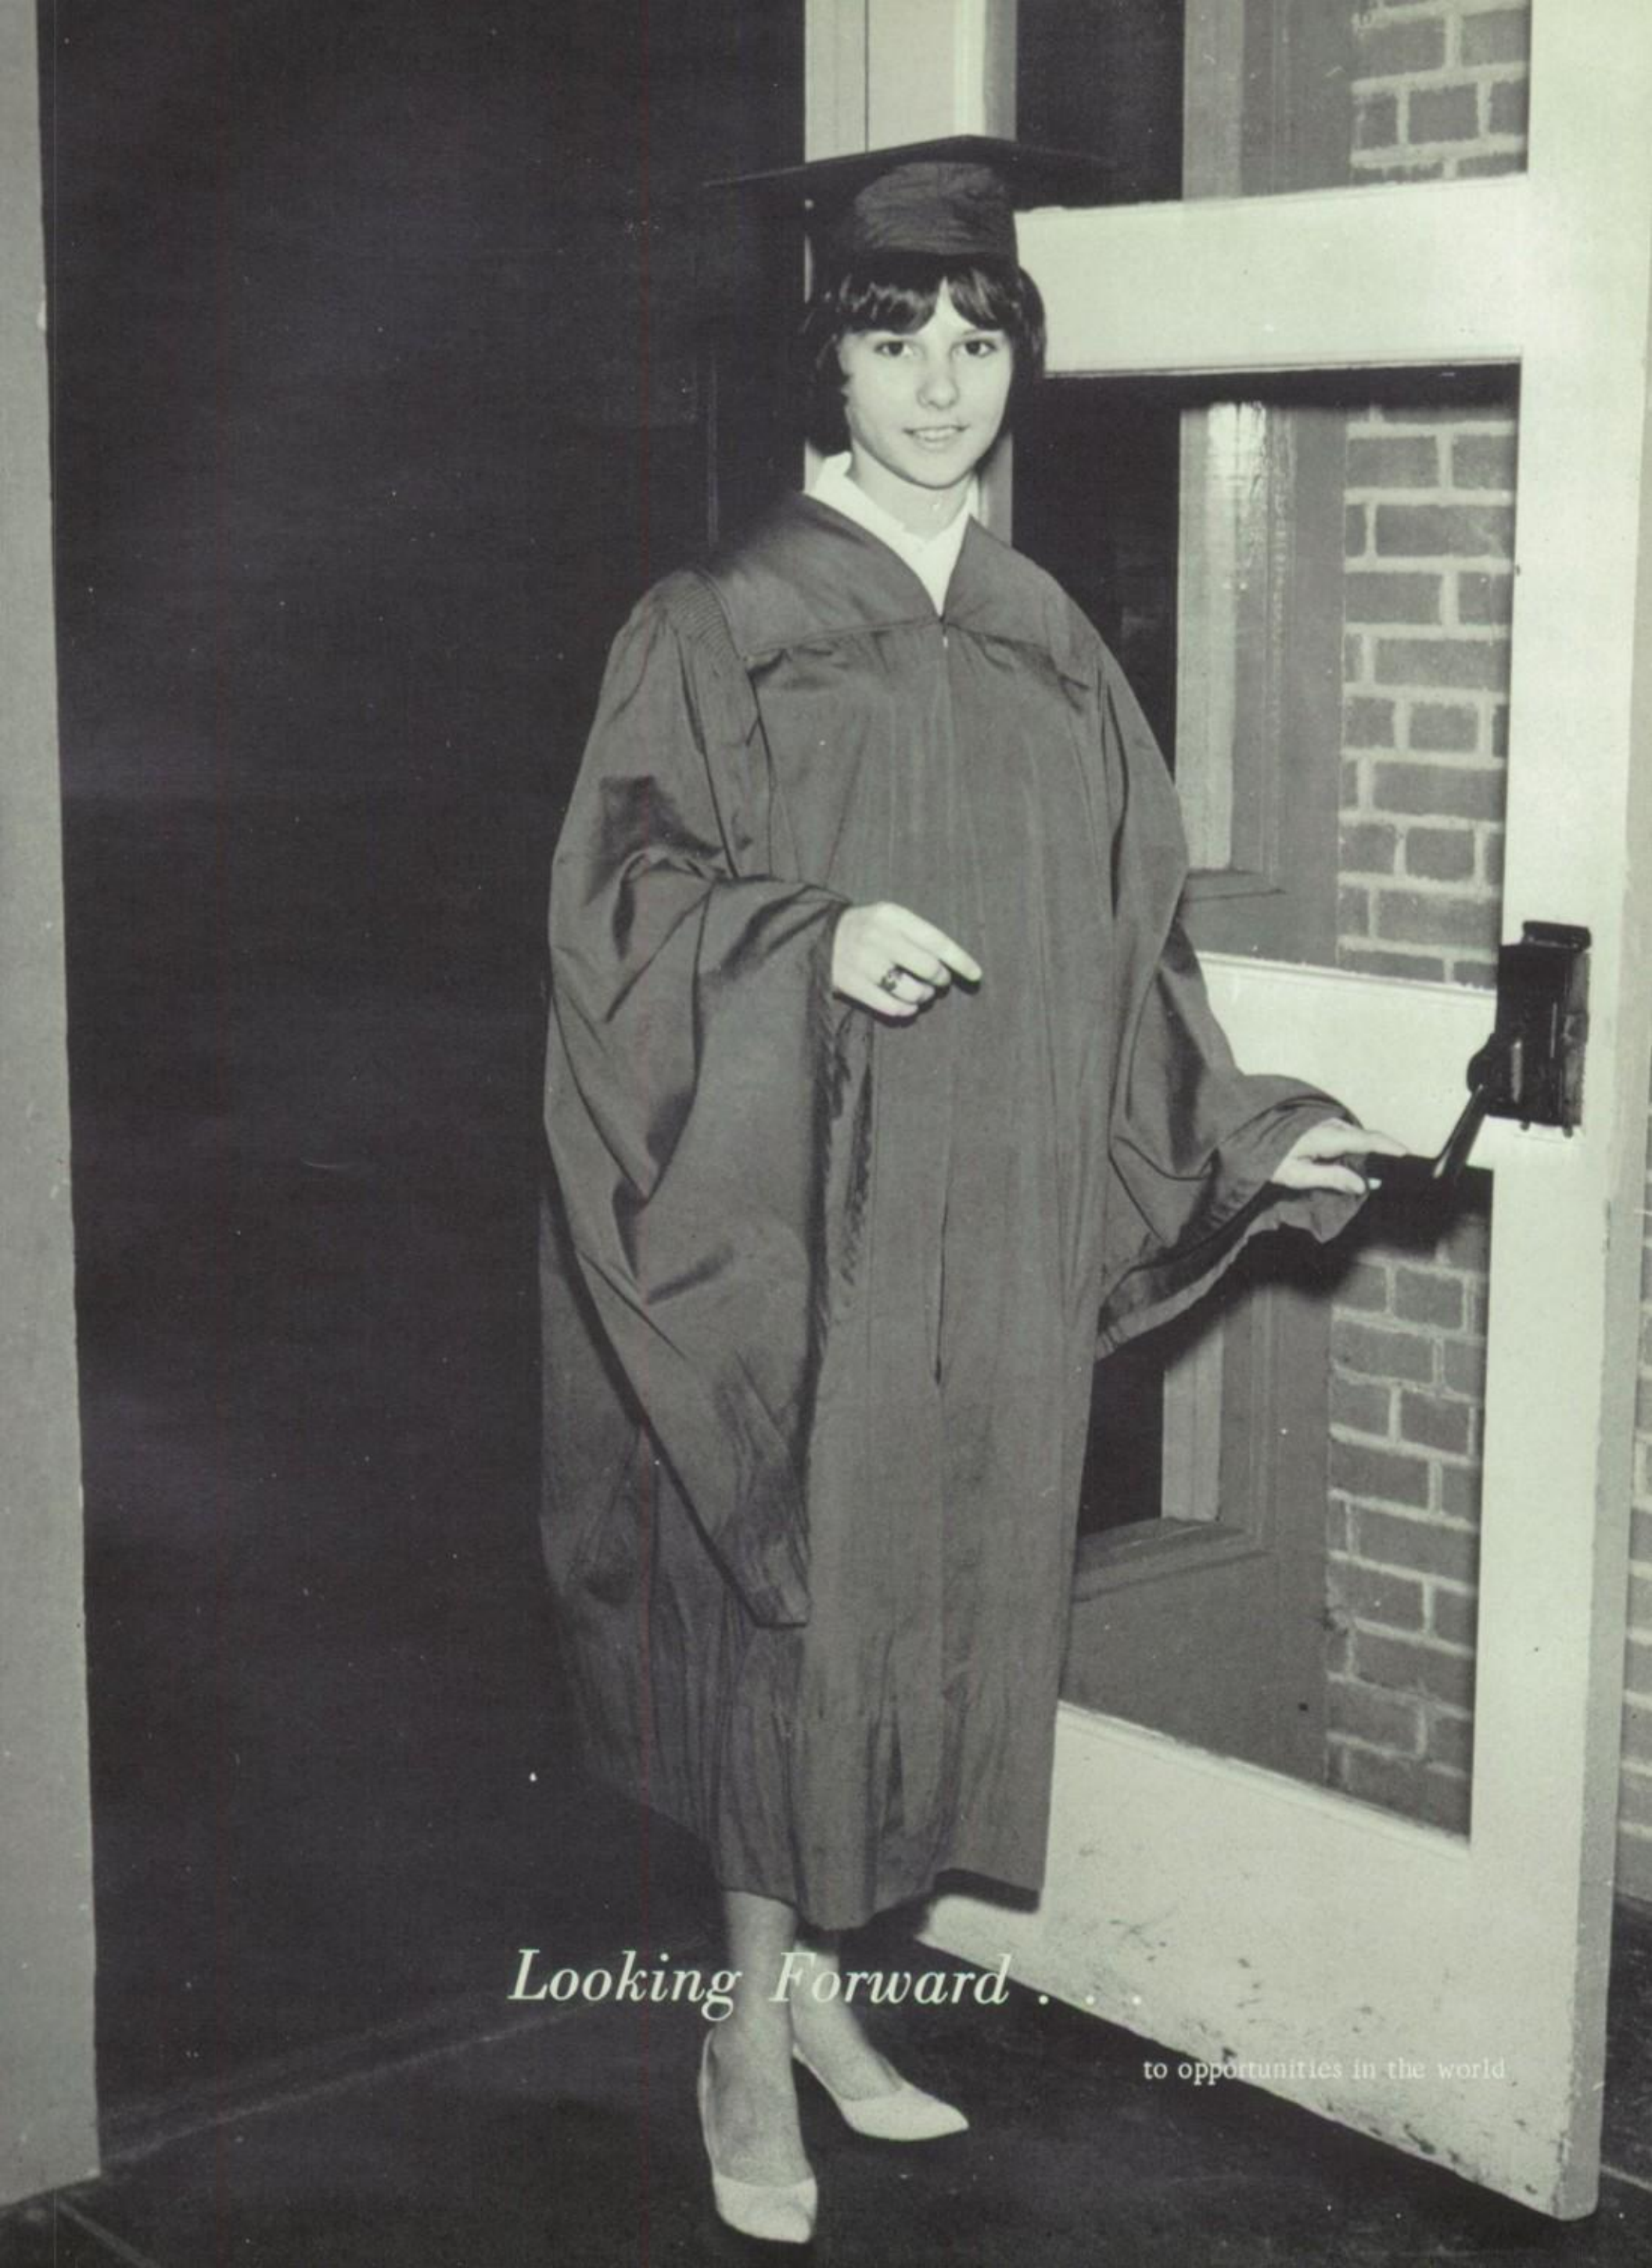


Looking Up . . .

toward our constant goal of higher education

Looking Back . . .

on all the happy times



Looking Forward . . .
to opportunities in the world

E nergetic--with enthusiasm that inspires
D ependable--he will see that the job is done
D etermined--and dedicated, too
I ndustrious--neither lazy nor slow
E arnest--with a zeal for success

B usy--never a wasted moment
R espected--and loved by his students
U nderstanding--which makes a good teacher
C onsiderate--of the problems of others
E ncouraging--always lending a helping hand

H onest--with self and others
A ware--of the needs of others
N eeded--a necessary part of our school
D auntless--he doesn't give up easily
L oyal--faithful and true to our school
E ffective--his labors bear fruit
Y oung--enough and close enough to really help his students

The Senior Class is happy to dedicate this edition of the MARTINIAN to Mr. Eddie B. Handley. We appreciate the understanding way in which he has taught us and believe him to be a wonderful person.

Superintendent's Message

November 1, 1966

Dear Seniors,

Thank you for giving me an opportunity to write in your yearbook, THE MARTINIAN.

If you would be a success in this life, regardless of your vocation, you must develop a wholesome personality. You may want to ask, "What do you mean by "wholesome personality"?

A wholesome person is one who:

feels comfortable about himself
feels that he is liked and accepted has self respect
feels able to deal with most situations can accept failures and disappointments is not bowled over by his emotions feels right about other people is interested in other people has personal relations that are satisfying and lasting expects to like and trust other people feels a sense of responsibility to others

is able to meet the demands of life
does something about problems as they arise accepts responsibilities welcomes new experiences and ideas thinks for himself, makes his own decisions puts his best effort into what he does and gets satisfaction from doing it.

A wholesome personality is not inclined to be neurotic, nor does such a person turn to drinking as a means of escape from a pressing problem, a down-grading experience, or the pains of failure.

The more adequate your personality, the more interested you are in others.

If you will begin today in sincerely developing your personality, it will pay you great dividends in lasting friendships, better jobs, and wider experiences.

Robert E. Cunningham

Robert E. Cunningham, Superintendent

Principal's Message

The hope of the future lies in the education of its youth. Government and educators are doing their best to provide as good an education as possible under local conditions. Parents desire better jobs and higher standards of living for their children.

It is the student's responsibility to take advantage of the many opportunities provided for him. Students who drop out of school are unable to cope with life in this jet age. Parents are willing to work hard and give up many pleasures to give their children every opportunity. Children should reciprocate by doing their best. If they do this, their community, country, and the world will be a better place in which to live.

SUNDOWN

The stars twinkled brightly for a moment,
The sun glowed brilliantly for a day;
Then a shadow covered them both.
We knew we would have to go separate ways.

It seemed to last a moment,
It certainly wasn't very long.
Our senior year, a wonderful year,
Filled with laughter, tears, and is now almost gone.

Our paths may never cross again;
Who knows what fate holds in store?
So many questions, not many answers;
We must face it as those who graduated before.

The good times were many, the bad times few,
The memories are precious and so dear,
And we look ahead with wistful eyes, sad hearts.
For we won't be coming back next year.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of 1967, in sound mind and healthy physique, do make this our Last Will and Testament. Each article here described is bequeathed severally to the below mentioned individuals according to the terms of this will and testament.

We hereby declare all previous promises to pay, wills and testaments made by this class, as null and void.

We, the Senior Class, do also bequeath to the Junior Class Miss White and Mr. Wylie, with the understanding and guidance you are sure to need. We leave these two prized possessions with you with the assumption that you will handle them with care--they are the best we have and will have to last a few more years.

I, Frank Benson, will my ability to jump on the trampoline to Red Morrow.

I, David Estes, will my ability to get in trouble about something every day to Monty Stockman.

I, Hilda Teske Chappell, will my ability to be married my Senior year to Ann Stricklin.

I, Kenny Odom, will my ability to be the president of the Martin High "F" Troop to Douglas Hartley.

I, Mike Key, will my ability to "lay out" of school to Robert Hendon.

We, Jerry Sanford and Jimmy Wright, will our ability to get thrown out of football and have to drive a school bus our Senior year to Tommy Gilbert and Red Morrow.

I, Ronnie Thompson, will my ability to write my own excuses and leave school to go play pool to whoever needs it.

I, Greg Hosmer, will my mind to David Thomaston; he'll find it's never been used.

I, David Horton, will my ability to get by on my good looks to John Crowe.

I, Thomas Sullivan, will to Mickey Horton my shoes and a bottle of Ban deodorant.

I, Ann Henderson, will my front seat in bookkeeping to Jane Glover, in hopes that she won't have to sit there.

I, Steve Ferguson, will my ability to talk Coach Reid out of running those last few 100-yard sprints to Lynn Long--he's a loafer, too.

I, Claudia Kyzer, will all my climbing trips to the fire tower to Ellen Purvis, in hopes she can climb it better than I could.

I, Judy Lockhart, will my unthinkable thoughts and good times to Becky Horton.

I, Mike Nunnelee, will my desire to graduate to Willice Bolton.

I, Joe Jones, will all my ability and size to Richard Alexander.

I, Harry Copeland, will my ability to have more trouble with people to Mike Brasfield and Ronnie Aultman; maybe they can straighten everything out for me.

I, Monte Key, will my ability to cut classes to any Junior who is brave enough to try it. Good luck.

I, James Sanford, will my ability to get caught at anything I try to do--like skipping class--to the whole Junior Class.

I, Linda Palmer, will my ability to be in a quiet study hall to Barbara Mize and Sheryl Miller.

We, Bobbie Earnest and Patricia Wade, will the position of best girl pals to Martine Keeton and Brenda Keeton.

I, Jerry Chappell, will my ability to get out of those rough football practices to Red Morrow.

We, L. J. Fondren and Mitchell Garner, will nothing to nobody, because it took all we had and a little of somebody else's to get where we are now. (Nowhere!)

I, Edsel Prestridge, will my unwanted ability to be a failure to John Crowe.

We, Karen Smith and Jean Tittle, will to Barbara Black our great ability to - to - to - to . . . Oh, well, good luck anyway.

I, Karla Key, will my ability to keep the Clairol Company in business to Sandra Fuller.

I, Vader Key, will my ability to gain two pounds in one year to Ann Stricklin.

I, Donna Sanford, will my ability to go steady with one boy for three months to Margaret Argent. (Here's hoping she can take a hint.)

We, Laura Jane Morrow and Susan Jackson, will to Martine Keeton and Sue Chappell, our ability to be at the wrong place at the wrong time and to say the wrong things to the wrong people.

I, Charles (Bullet) Snow, will my love for a certain little one-horse town between here and Jasper (not Parrish) and the very merry Christmas I experienced this year to Charles Gough.

I, Yvonne Kelley, will my ability to get Quietest in the Senior Class to Linda Short, in hopes she can live up to my standards.

I, Sherry Perry, will my ability to get Most Dignified in the Senior Class and all the good times we had coming back from Thespian Banquets to Joan Douglas, and to Carol Hope all the fun we had at Beta meetings. I hope that their Senior year will be as much fun as mine.

I, Donna Stewart, will my ability to get a "doozey" of a donation at the March of Dimes road block to Donna Burks and Gay Hope.
